“Elected officers shall be provided a master GSC drive that includes folders within it that are specific to each officer. Each officer folder shall contain an Officer Instructions document that details respective officer responsibilities and related notes, in addition to any other materials that may aid in the execution of these responsibilities. The Officer Instructions document and all other materials in the officer folder shall be updated and organized regularly throughout the officer’s term. Officers are expected to backup this data on a computer hard drive. Elected officers shall update their folder and return to the secretary at least 48 hours before the last General Body meeting of each semester. The President shall provide the master GSC drive to newly elected officers. At any time, the President may request officers to return their master GSC drive (within 7 days of the request) to be updated and returned at the next General Body meeting.”

iii. President vacancy [added Under Article VI.F.2 (Vacancy of President)]

   Upon the vacancy of the president, the vice-president immediately becomes the acting president. The vice-president has the option to assume the presidency, or to return to the vice-presidency upon the election of a new president.

   If the vice-president decides not to assume the presidency, he/she shall oversee the election of a new president. This procedure follows the procedure established in Article VII.

   If the vice-president assumes the presidency, he/she shall follow the procedure established in Article VI.F.1
